Manitoba To Vote Nov. 10

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20.—(UPI)—Premier Douglas L. Campbell announced today that a provincial election will be held in Manitoba on Thursday, November 14.

Orders-in-council were passed at a council meeting this morning enjoining the legislature and authorizing the issuing of a writ of election on October 14, the announcement said.

Nomination day will be Thursday, October 27.

The likelihood of freeze-ups or the in-between-season conditions would delay the election in one constituency. Voters in the district of Edmonton West will go to the polls until December 14.

11th in Line to Throne Weds Austrian Pianist

By Geraldine Hill

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(UPI)—The Earl of Harwood, millionaire nephew of the King and 11th in succession to the British throne, married a pretty Austrian refugee pianist in fashionable St. Mark's Church today before the Royal Family.

The 26-year-old son of the King's sister made Marion Stein, 22, the Countess of Harwood in the first marriage of a commoner into the inner circle of Royal House of Windsor since the Duke of Windsor wed Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson in 1937.

THOUSANDS WATCH

Thousands jammed Mayfair's narrow North Audley street today for a glimpse of the newly-weds and the Royal Family. American tourists paid $1 for a seat in windows overlooking the church.

The King, Queen Elizabeth, Princess Elizabeth, the Duke of Edinburgh, Princess Margaret and all other members of the Royal Family except Queen Mother Mary the bridegroom's grandmother, and the Duchess of Kent, his aunt, witnessed the ceremony.

The Queen Mother, 85, felt the hour-long ceremony would be too tiring. The Duchess of Kent has been summoned to Greece by the illness of her mother-in-law.

The King at first had frowned on the romance, but gave his consent after the Princess Royal, Lord Harwood's mother and the King's sister, interceded for the lovers.

Violence Rules Coal Fields In East U.S.

By The Associated Press

Hidden resentment ambushed a 14-truck coal convoy on Snow Shoe Mountain in central Pennsylvania today, firing a dose of the nation's unionist truckers. No one was reported hurt.

FOURTH DAY

It was the fourth straight day of violent outbreaks in the coal fields of the United States.

A police policeman Howard Hancock said no pickets were in sight when the heavily guarded convoy moved at slow descent of the mountain.

"We didn't know we were being fired upon at first," said state police corporal Robert Dault. "But after the first few shots we realized what it was and stopped the caravan."

He said a detail of troopers laid the thickly wooded area, a break in the trees.

There were no signs that the 11-day work stoppage of the C.I.W. in the near future would come as the result of the Blue-Field, W.Va., conference.

Diplomatic Break Seen Next Move

By Richard S. Clark
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(UPI)—The Soviet government today broke off its 1945 treaty of friendship with Yugoslavia on grounds Marshal Tito had become a puppet of foreign imperialism and aggressive powers.

The latest move in the Tito-Stalin cold war, was announced by Moscow radio. It broadened the scope of a note handed to the Yugoslav charge d'affaires in Moscow yesterday by Soviet deputy foreign minister Andrei Gromyko.

The Soviet action followed by one day Tito's charge that Soviet troops were digging trenches in Hungary and Romania and "baiting" their arms around our border."

It also came less than a week after the United States and Britain announced that Russia had an atomic bomb.

SATELLITES FOLLOW

Renunciation of the treaty made a break in diplomatic relations the next possible step in the cold war between the two former close political friends. The increased isolation of the now led diplomats to believe such a step might be further coming soon.

Despatches from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, said diplomatic quarters there expected Russia's eastern European satellites would quickly follow Russia's lead and renounce their friendship treaties with Yugoslavia.

Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria now are linked with Yugoslavia by friendship pacts.

Albania alone among the satellites has none.

Diplomatic quarters in Belgrade regarded the Soviet denunciation as another move in the Cominform cold war against Tito, the dispatches said.

These quarters refused to admit there was a possibility of open hostilities in the near future, even though the Soviet troops were reported parading along sections of Yugoslavia's frontiers.

The Soviet charged that the Soviet-Yugoslav treaty, which pledged the signatories that joining any alliance against the other, had been "readily" trumped upon and torn to pieces by the present Yugoslav government.

Tear Gas Bombs Break Up Strikers

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 20.—(AP)—One hundred deputy sheriffs today hurled tear gas bombs to break up a rock-throwing crowd of striking United Automobile Workers (UAW) after non-strikers tried to pass an all-American picket line before the Bell Aircraft plant here.

The part was the first major agreement reached under recommendations of President Truman's (CIO) after non-strikers tried to pass an all-American picket line before the Bell Aircraft plant here.

The agreement, reached after a 15-hour bargaining session—the longest in automobile history—averted a nation-wide strike set for last night. It pointed a possible way for labor peace throughout the nation.

$35,000 A YEAR

British Marquis' Fiancee To Give Up Huge Income

By LEO TURNER

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(UPI)—Mrs. Honorable Simpson is giving up a $35,000-a-year income to marry the Marquis of Milford Haven, her friends said today. But she doesn't need it, they say.

She is the second Mrs. Simpson to attract attention with her plans to marry into the British Royal Family.

The first was Wallis Warfield Simpson, now the Duchess of Windsor. But as America's divorcees, but times have changed, and now Mrs. Simpson gave up her $35,000-a-year income to marry her third husband. The man who loves the second Mrs. Simpson is a cousin of the present King.

and is in distant line for the throne.

Mrs. Simpson's husband is a businessman with a number of interests in the fire, including a string of help-yourself laundries which he introduced from America.

They announced their engagement in London yesterday, this time with the blessings of all concerned.

The $35,000 awarded her in a July 15, 1940, Reno divorce from William Simpson, Leontine Valley, N.Y., socialist and a director of Marshall Field's Chicago. Her friends said the money payments would end if she marries again.

The tag "London Laundry" was planned on Milford Haven recently when one of his New York friends invited him to an invitation saying "The Marquess of Milford Haven invites your company at the opening of a new laundry in Hammermith in London."

The chain of self-laundries which Milford Haven introduced to Britain after his American visit is only one of several enterprises of the social reformer. He is a director of four companies, including a metal works, a sports stadium, the "Local Laundry, Ltd." and the electric hair company for which he visited America as a salesman.

Auditorium for Everybody

The emphasis constantly placed by Mayor Harry D. Ainlay on the importance of the projected civic auditorium in the accommodation of conventions is timely and sound.

An auditorium bylaw was defeated on a previous occasion because the cultural aspect of the controversy was oversteered. It was oversteered to the point where a number of bourgeois sufficient to quash the plan concluded that it was a structure intended for the delectation of only part of the community and did not offer something for every citizen.

That mistake must not occur again. And Mayor Ainlay does well to keep the utilitarian aspects of the auditorium plainly before the public.

The cultural value of the auditorium is undoubtedly high.

To preserve the civilized amenities in Edmonton there should be a place where local and travelling theatrical and musical productions may be staged, where indoor sports events may be held, where celebrities in the arts may be seen and heard.

But the convenience of organizations which require adequate meeting halls and the provision of facilities for important conventions are of equal value and of infinite concern to every Edmonton citizen. Mayor Ainlay has frequently mentioned conventions.

Large national conventions are prolific sources of new industries because they bring to the city men who are in a position to establish new industries here.

When a convention is forced to abandon plans for meeting in Edmonton through lack of available space, as happens with distressing frequency, potential new industries go with it.

New industries mean new wealth, new payroll, new taxpayers. They lighten the tax burden on every bourgeois's shoulders.

If all these facts are completely understood by the public, there is no reason why the auditorium bylaw should not pass with a satisfactory majority.

Everyone must appreciate the importance of getting the expenditure authorized without delay even if the last detail of the project is not worked out.

There will be some opposition from those who feel that the recommendation of the town planning report should be followed in respect of siting the auditorium, not on the civic centre area, but south of Jasper between 100 and 109 streets.

It is a sound position and the principles of town planning should prevail over other projects.

But the suggested site south of Jasper is not specific. It would probably involve additional cost.

These points should be considered. And if the new town planner, after considering all these factors, is willing to make an exception to the recommendation and give his blessing to the civic centre site, his decision will probably be accepted by even the most zealous supporters of town planning.

A Home for the Prime Minister

It is absurd, undignified and unnecessary that the prime minister of Canada should be forced to live in a two-by-four flat in downtown Ottawa.

Flats and apartments have their merits. But the prestige which should pertain to the highest elective office in this country suffers most shamefully from the national pariahdom which forces the prime minister into a standard of living far below the importance of his post.

It is ridiculous that a prime minister should have to scurry around Ottawa begging for a house which will permit him to live in a manner equal to that of foreign representatives who all have their own or rented residences.

It would be ridiculous that a prime minister should have to maintain such a home on his private funds even if one were obtainable.

A national home for the prime minister is an absolute necessity. And what is $100,000 or even $500,000 to a pure patriot who would give his life for his country such as Canada?

Privy Council Argument Is False

The plea that the abolition of Canadian appeals to the privy council is essential to the complete sovereignty and independence of this country is as false as it is stupid.

The argument is so full of factual flaws that it is a wonder it has not been challenged by opponents of the measure in Parliament.

It is true that champions of the Commonwealth tie, such as George Drew and Howard Green of Vancouver, have claimed that the proposed abolition is a move designed to break down the imperial connection—a purpose which is probably a cleverly disguised number of those who support the abolition bill.

But this point of view is feeble and ineffectual because the privy council does not function as a bond between Canada and the English government.

In fact, the privy council is not the creation of the English parliament at all, but of the English King who is also King of Canada.

Devaluation And

Trade Balances

The dominion monthly trade report has been issued for the period to the end of July. It shows a balance in our favor of $12,500,000. A favorable balance for the first seven months of 1949 amounted to $41,800,000. In 1948 the favorable balance for the same period was over four times that amount—$177,200,000.

We obtain our favorable balance from Commonwealth Nations and we lose the advantage through our trade with the United States.

Our deficit with the United States for July was $52,000,000. For the seven-month period it was $262,300,000. That is over 100 million more than in 1948. In 1948 our deficit for the same period was only $1,640,300,000. Two-thirds of our total imports come from the United States.

This report tells that our imports for the month of July were $1,640,300,000. Our exports for the same period were only $1,120,000,000. That is a deficit of $523,300,000.

These are large figures. But the most impressive point is that our exports for the month of July were only $1,120,000,000. That is a deficit of $523,300,000.

through bargain sales to the United States with the Canadian government subsidizing the price.

That proposition appears to provide a trade route which would let us save what it would cost to import.

Since a 10 per cent currency devaluation was considered necessary to provide a 10 per cent subsidy on exports to the U.S. it would not be possible to limit this subsidy to additional exports only. It would be necessary to provide the subsidy on all exports or else resort to the British system of complete governmental control of foreign trade.

Problem Outlined

Unless we continue or increase our import restrictions, it is clear Canadian industry will be unable to compete with the U.S. market. If the Canadian dollar were kept at par, remember, it would be higher than the U.S. dollar.

Therefore, it follows that if we were to balance our trade we would have to sell that amount mentioned above, $1 billion in 7 months, or $1 billion just over $2 billion a year. A 10 per cent subsidy on $2 billion equals $200 million per annum.

In the last budget it was estimated that tax reductions would amount to $250 million in the next fiscal year. Thus an export subsidy of $200 million would offset the proposed tax reductions. In fact, such a subsidy would almost balance the trade.

Would you prefer to have the dollar at par and avoid the small deficit? Or would you prefer to need not buy and give up the reduction in income tax which would be lost?

The fact is that such a subsidy would be a heavy burden on the government. It would be a heavy burden on the government. It would be a heavy burden on the government.

With increased American merchandise, it is possible to avoid buying in many cases.

With a subsidy, the more we sell and the better our trade balance. The more we sell, the better our trade balance. The more we sell, the better our trade balance.

With a subsidy, the more we sell and the better our trade balance. The more we sell, the better our trade balance. The more we sell, the better our trade balance.

Coalition Plan Is Endorsed In Manitoba

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28. — (CP) — The Manitoba Liberal-Progressive Association by a large majority here yesterday endorsed coalition after three hours of spirited debate, and concluded its one-day convention by unanimously electing Premier D. L. Campbell leader of the party.

The association's action paved the way for a November election in Manitoba. It is expected the question of calling an election will be under discussion at a cabinet meeting, possibly tomorrow.

RESOLUTION WORDING
Of the 74 delegates registered at the convention, 71 took ballot books, but only 679 actually voted on the question of remaining in the coalition. The resolution voted on read:

"Resolved that the Manitoba Liberal-Progressive Association supports an appeal to the electorate at the next provincial election on the basis of coalition."

Official voting figures were not disclosed, but one source said the result was 60-40 in favor of coalition.

HOUSE STANDING
The Liberal-Progressives, with 25 members, form the biggest bloc in the 35-man legislature. Eight Progressive Conservatives support coalition. Four are against it, sitting as Independents.

The CCF party, with eight members, forms the official opposition. There were 30 CCF members at the last election, but two have been expelled from the party since then.

Special Hurricane Arranged for Ruler

The recent headlines about Florida's ill-wind reminded me of a hurricane story I heard in Trinidad last January.

Around the turn of the century, a lean-bellied little man named General Avila Hernandez became mayor of a town on the Caribbean coast.

He belonged to the old Latin school which figured a man was no more than an animal unless he had a million pesos and a couple of mistresses.

The town he governed consisted of two parts: an island shambles of mud huts and sun-baked poverty, and a mainland district of white owners, who preferred to remain apart from the sight and smell of the riffraff.

Like most dictators, the general was an advocate of moderation. Among the blessings he brought to his small domain was a shiny fire engine and a steel drawbridge, the first of their kind in that part of the world.

BRIDGE CLASS—SEPARATOR
The bridge, which connected the two parts of the town, was used not only to join but to separate. Every night, after the workers had crossed to their almshouses, the two halves were raised, ostensibly to allow for the free flow of ship traffic in the channel, but actually to insure the safety and privacy of the privileged.

As a special concession, however, the class-conscious contraption was lowered whenever the wind started howling, so that in case of tidal wave or hurricane, the islanders could take refuge in the mainland hills.

In that part of the Caribbean, the wind howls frequently. One day, tired of the intrusion of peasants and goats on their estates, the islanders sent a delegation to the mayor and demanded the trespassing cease.

"It will never happen again," the general promised.

One evening not long after, the wind began to lash in from the sea and the worried islanders headed for the bridge. By the time the first group arrived, the general was in the control booth on the mainland side of the draw.

He waited until the tide was half way across the span and then pulled the lever. As the two halves parted and began to rise, the middle tried to leap the chasm which separated them from safety. Some of the more agile men jumped, but others—especially the elders and children—fell into the channel and drowned.

The remainder slid to the base of the ramp, where they were joined by others who clamored and pleaded to be let across. But by this time the general had locked the controls and was safe in his home on the hill.

HUNDREDS DROWNED
When the core of the hurricane hit an hour later, several hundred people were drowned in the waves which swept over the waterfront.

Next morning the general ordered the drawbridge lowered, made a quick inspection of the drowned survivors and their estates, and proclaimed a day of mourning. But as the day wore on, the islanders began to assemble and their lamentations were replaced by tales of insurrection.

This was the excuse the general had been looking for. He announced that on the morrow he, himself, General Avila Hernandez, would lead his troops against the riffraff.

At sunrise next day, the mainland waterfront was decorated as for a fête. Gentlemen on horseback and ladies in carriage, all in black, at the appointed time, the span was lowered and the general, attired in black, walked to the edge of the bridge, where he was met by his adherents and set out alone across the bridge.

When he was three-fourths of the way, he signalled for his men to follow—but not one of them moved. Almost every soldier had just a relative or friend in the hurricane.

Suddenly the draw began to rise, and the opposite shore became alive with people converging on the bridge. The general watched his house, hoping to leap the widening gap. But it was too late—going up the steep incline, the

Movies Blamed In Crime Plot

Youth Admits Kidnapping Of Engraver At Coast

VANCOUVER, Sept. 29.—(CP)—A fantastic criminal web involving kidnapping, courtship and prostitution was inspired by "blood and thunder" crime movies and stories, a 21-year-old youth testified in police court here yesterday.

The youth, Paul Pankow, was sentenced to two years in penitentiary for the kidnapping of Ernest Matheson, 67-year-old engraver who went through a week-long ordeal in chains last January.

"I have no doubt that what this youth said is completely true," said Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson, "and what moving pictures teach has fallen on fertile soil."

STUDIED TECHNIQUE
"Not only was this youth able to have his mind filled with the crime thrills of the movies," the magistrate added, "but was able to go to the public library and find a book in which to study the perfecting of his technique."

Pankow's statement, part of which was read by Prosecutor Stewart McMoran, said the reason for abducting the engraver was that he had seen a crime movie and had read stories of making counterfeit notes. He said he obtained a toy gun.

Mr. McMoran said the engraver was not molested but was held in confinement and given regular meals. He was chained to a bed for a week.

SPOTTED IN CAFE
Pankow was arrested Aug. 11 when spotted in a downtown cafe. Still sought on a charge of kidnapping in the Dyer case in Pankow's brother, William Pankow. He said he and his brother were the only ones involved in the plot.

Pankow was sentenced to six months concurrent for obtaining money by false pretences—the charge that led to his arrest in the kidnapping case. He pleaded guilty to both charges.

The case created a sensation here when Condit, formerly employed as an engraver by the Toronto Star, was found shackled to a bed in a rented Danforth district home.

FORCED PLATE
For a week two men, identified by police as Pankow and his brother, attempted to force him to engrave a plate for making bogus $10 bills.

Condit was taken prisoner when he went to the rented house Jan. 5 in answer to a newspaper want ad seeking an engraver. He was held until Jan. 12 when neighbors called police when they became suspicious of the occupants.

B.C. Polio Total Now At 172

VANCOUVER, Sept. 29.—(CP)—British Columbia's 1949 polio total continued to rise yesterday with three new cases reported by medical health officers here.

They are a 15-year-old boy, flown to Vancouver from Port Alice, B.C., and two city residents. The new cases bring the total raised this year in General hospital here to 172.

LURID CRIME COMICS PROTESTED IN HOUSE

OTTAWA, Sept. 29.—(CP)—Those lurid crime comics would go on before before and jury under a bill introduced in the commonsense.
The measure, designed to regulate publication and sale of the objectionable type of comic books, was given first reading after presentation by E. J. Fulton (PC-Kamloops). It is the same as the bill introduced at last session in the House.
Mr. Fulton said the measure does not specifically outline what crime comics should be banned.
It provides a general definition of those books which should be considered as having a bad effect on the morals of children.
Any such comic book suspected of falling within this definition would be given a notice to appear before either receiving a clean bill of health, being banned from publication and sale or warned.
The first printing presses in Ottawa were set up in the House, Paris, in 1470.

GEORGIAN LINES of U of A Arts building grace centre of campus. Administration offices, library and classrooms are located in building. First foundations of Arts building laid in 1913, were demolished in 1914 to make room for a larger structure.

MILLION-DOLLAR LIBRARY being built on U of A campus will be one of most modern book centres in western Canada. Named the Rutherford Library, after Alberta's first premier, building will have a capacity of 265,000 books.

U. Registration Jump Sparks Construction Plan

Student enrolment at the University of Alberta has tripled since the pre-war thirties. During the past four years the place has overflowed with a post-war influx of student veterans and high school graduates.

In 1940 the influx of student veterans, backed by Department of Veterans Affairs credits, swelled enrolment to 2,893. Another 454 were added in a special January class in 1946.

By September 1946 attendance had doubled from the previous year to 4,435. Enrolment hit its peak in 1947-48 with 4,881. Then it dropped off to 4,500 in the 1948-49 session.

Five-week long summer session in July and August has boosted attendance from a pre-war average of 300 students to a post-war average of 1,300. This increase is largely due to the inclusion of courses in Education in the University Summer School.

SPACE SHORTAGE

Following the sudden increase in students and staff, university officials put every available spare room into use for classroom, laboratory or office space.

NDAP drillhall on the campus was taken over for the physical education department. The old University high school building at 84 ave. and 112 st. was pushed into service and temporary, prefabricated army huts were put up on the campus to handle overflow.

This temporary accommodation will be replaced by permanent buildings as soon as possible.

Critical problem of finding accommodation for married student veterans was partly solved by building of 197 Dawson Creek suites on the South Side.

Another 128 suites built by the university at the U.S. Army Air base north of Kingsway, helped to alleviate student housing shortage.

HOUSING OF VARSITY STAFF MEMBERS was provided by the university in three blocks of small houses built south of St. Stephen's College.

LONG RANGE PLAN

First steps in a long-range expansion scheme for the university are already under way on the campus.

Two new $1 million wings were completed on the medical building last year. New additions provide space for labs, the University Dental Clinic, offices and classrooms.

Other new buildings under construction include a $1 million library building, and the first $500,000 unit of a projected three-unit Students' Union building.

Under construction behind the University Hospital is the new Provincial Lab of Public Health. It will provide space for teaching such courses as pathology, bacteriology and preventative medicine.

Future building plans on the campus are based on an estimated permanent enrolment of between 4,000 and 5,000 students.

Long-range plans call for construction of a biological science building, an engineering building, new administration building and a university museum.

MASS OF SCAFFOLDING is $300,000 Students' Union building under construction on U of A campus. Designed as administration and social centre for students, the building is scheduled to be completed by May, 1950.

MEDICAL BUILDING at the University of Alberta houses scientific, medical and dental facilities. Building was completed in 1951. Two new wings were added to the building last year.

Petroleum Engineering One of Three New Courses

University of Alberta is offering three new specialist courses this term. The courses will give specialist training in engineering and agriculture students in irrigation engineering, petroleum engineering and farm management.

Offered for first time this year, irrigation engineering will train two-year students in irrigation engineering, petroleum engineering and farm management.

Course will interchange second students between the department of civil engineering and the faculty of agriculture.

Third and fourth year engineering students who wish to specialize in irrigation, will take special courses in drainage engineering, hydraulics, design and operation of irrigation ditches, and building of canals.

AGRICULTURE FOR ENGINEERS Engineering students will also take agricultural courses in field crops, properties of soil, control of soil and similar subjects.

Agriculture students who are interested in administration of irrigation systems, will be taught close co-operation with engineers through courses in irrigation and drainage. All students will take two courses in the civil engineering department as well as specialist courses in their own faculty.

Irrigation course was set up following studies of the University faculty of engineering and the provincial government's water resources branch.

L. A. Thomson, professor of civil engineering, and Thomas Blench, associate professor of civil engineering, will lecture on the new course.

Prof. Blench, 44, is a veteran of 20 years experience with irrigation and canal works in India. A graduate of Glasgow University.

Scotland, Prof. Blench served with the Irrigation Branch of the Punjab Public Works Dept. in India from 1927 until 1930. During World War Two he served in the Royal Indian Engineers and was discharged with the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

One of the most popular new courses being offered this term is petroleum engineering.

This course was inaugurated last year under department of chemical engineering, headed by Dr. George W. Govier.

Third and fourth year chemical engineering students who wanted to specialize in petroleum were given courses in petroleum geology.

This year, the course has been expanded to include petroleum production engineering.

Second year chemical engineering students can now take special petroleum fieldwork in the spring, and senior students are given more intensive training in petroleum subjects.

First lecturer in petroleum production is John W. Greig, 21, petroleum engineering graduate from the University of California at Berkeley. He will hold the position of assistant professor of petroleum engineering.

New farm management course for agriculture students will be given by the department of political economy under the direction of Andrew Stewart, professor of economics.

Course will give instruction on marketing of farm produce, study of farm production problems, problems of risk and uncertainty in farming, and conservation, and principles of accounting applied to the farm.

Lecturer will be John Jorgens, 29, assistant professor of farm management. An agriculture graduate of the University of Alberta.

Hot AL Flag Race Sizzles, As Senators Edge Boston

Red Sox, Yanks Square, Cards, Bums Rained Out

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(CP)—The bumpy tail-end Washington Senators enlivened the already-frantic American League pennant race last night by dumping Boston Red Sox into a first-place tie with New York Yankees, defeating the Sox 2-1.

Senators rang up both their runs in the ninth inning, with Al Kousser romping home with the winning run from third on Mel Parnell's wild pitch.

Senator Merry-Go-Round Begins

Roberto Ortiz singled to get the Senators rally going. Gil Coan ran for Ortiz and moved to second on pitcher Ed Stewart's sacrifice.

Ed Stewart's sacrifice bunt and Al Kousser's lead-off home run tied the game. Kousser followed with a single to left to score Coan with the tying run from third on Mel Parnell's wild pitch.

Dodgers, Cardinals Rained Out

In the red-hot National league flag race, Brooklyn Dodgers were rained out of a scheduled contest with Boston Braves.

Manager Don Shotton of the Dodgers spent the day plotting his pitching strategy for the rest of the season. Both the Braves and Cards have four games left to play.

Shotton named his hurlers for the rest of the season in order of preference: Joe Hatten, Don Newcombe and Ralph Branca. Warren Spahn and John Cain, in a doubleheader today.

Card Reserve Breaks Nose

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29.—(CP)—Reserve infielder Solly Hemus of St. Louis Cardinals suffered a broken nose when hit by a home run ball, X-rays showed yesterday.

Hemus was injured in infield practice Tuesday night before Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Cardinals 4-1.

Manager Eddie Dyer said he expects Hemus to rejoin the club Friday or Saturday at Chicago.

Former star right winger of Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens will be returning to hockey as a player after two years of coaching.

Acorns Take 1-0 Lead In Series

OAKLAND, Sept. 29.—Oakland Athletics scored 12 runs in the first three innings here last night, stumping San Diego Padres 13-0.

Win gives the Acorns a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven semifinal series of the Pacific Coast baseball league. Padres used four pitchers over the distance, none of them being able to stop the heavy bat attack of the Acorns.

Second game of the series will be played tonight.

Maple Leafs Grab City Junior Football Title

Maple Leafs became city junior football champs last night at Clarke Stadium when they blanked EAC 24-0 for their third consecutive victory.

Railrods claim even mighty Eaks could have picked up a few pointers from Leafs brilliant special offensive.

Doug McNabb's 31-yard dash in the first frame fell short of a touchdown, but he took Bill Aubrey's pass in the second quarter, and romped 25 yards for the first major score of the evening.

It was a gift touchdown from the referees. Leafs switched ends on third down, gaining at least 25 yards on the change-over.

Bill McNabb followed McNabb's effort with a field goal good for another three points.

In second half Bill Horlie plunged from the 10-yard line, cut around EAC's right end, scoring Leafs' second 7-0.

Aubrey tossed a lateral to Doug McNabb for the third major score. Last quarter saw Vic Mayson grab another Aubrey leave for a touchdown. Bill McNabb converted, leaving EAC on the short end of a 24-0 score.

Field officials were Jim Peyer, Don McConnell and Johnny Farina.

Exhibition game between an all-star EAC team and Maple Leafs will be played Wednesday evening at Clarke Stadium.

Cards' Flag Hopes Jolted

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29.—(AP)—St. Louis Cardinals' National league pennant hopes received a jolt yesterday when it was learned that Nippy Jones, their hard-hitting first-baseman, will be lost to them for the balance of the season.

Jones' ailing back has been getting worse instead of better. He reported to the park yesterday in such pain that manager Eddie Dyer ordered him back to St. Louis. Jones will undergo a complete medical examination and hospital treatment.

Dyer, whose spruce already were dampened by steady rain that made play against Pittsburgh impossible, took his latest blow hard.

"Jones is one of our best hitters," he said. "He was the right-handed pinch hitter that hurt us."

Jones' current batting average is .262. Barring better action left-handed pinch-hitter, Nippy Jones will be lost to the Cardinals for the balance of the season.

Provincial final will be played at the Stadium Oct. 16 between Calgary and Leafs. The locals have recruited five players from EAC, one being Grant Martin, Doug Howey, Bob Stocks, Merv Zimmerman, and Bill Elliot.

Juvenile Cagers Form League

Six teams last night signed interest in playing in a juvenile football league. The six—West End, Young Judeans, Sea Cadets, East End, Doug Fawcett, Hamilton's and the difference lay in the general floorship of the eastern team, their more aggressive tactics and prestige.

Blaine McDonald continued his good work for the Hamilton squad as he fired four goals and collected two assists. George in line, who led the game in line as 17 penalties were handed out. Seven of them came in the last quarter.

Hamilton's Jack Dorsey, high scoring forward, suffered a slight concussion in the last quarter and it was not known immediately whether he would play in the next game.

In pouring on the heat, Tigers fired 20 shots at Green while Doug Fawcett, Hamilton's top scorer, netted 10 goals.

Clash met again in Vancouver Friday in the best-of-five series.

Taking a 3-2 lead at the end of the first quarter, Tigers kept pushing ahead and outscored Bruins in every period thereafter except the last. Bruins in the end, a singleton in the fourth quarter.

Hilltops Not Coming Here

Plans to have Saskatoon Hilltops play the city junior football championship at Clarke Stadium fell through last night when Jack Hilltops, captain of the Hilltops, announced a change for the Thanksgiving Day lineup.

Newly declared city titlist, Maple Leafs, will meet an All-star aggregation in place of the postponed tilt. All-stars will be made up of members of the EAC squad and several high school teams.

Provincial final will be played at the Stadium Oct. 16 between Calgary and Leafs. The locals have recruited five players from EAC, one being Grant Martin, Doug Howey, Bob Stocks, Merv Zimmerman, and Bill Elliot.

A MITE TOO ROUGH, PAL . . .

A villainous summer flu was evidently trying to fit into Western life in true movie fashion when it was arrested by city police yesterday.

It is a French-Canadian from Nova Scotia, was arrested and charged with assault.

Wearing a cowboy hat and blue jeans, he is alleged to have attacked three men in a 90 street rear parlor, knocking several teeth out of one of them.

U.S. Farmers To Get Escort

A Lancaster bomber from North West Air Command has been detailed as escort to more than 30 light private aircraft carrying American farmers on a three day tour of Alberta beginning tomorrow.

The farmers' aerial "armada" is scheduled to visit Lethbridge and Calgary on Friday and Saturday.

Edmonton Flying Club is acting as host when the large group, numbering more than 125 farmers, arrives here Sunday morning.

Australia Will Ration Gasoline

MELBOURNE, Sept. 29.—(Reuters)—Gasoline is to be rationed in Australia, premiers and ministers representing the six Australian states agreed yesterday.

Gasoline has been rationed since June 8 when the Australian high court ruled the commonwealth government's rationing regulations invalid. Prime Minister Chifley said the government could not increase gasoline imports because of the dollar shortage.

It is understood the American group is composed of members from the Flying Pilots of Montana and private flying associations from Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

Object of the visit is to stimulate interest in private flying and at the same time to afford the Americans a chance to see Canadian farming methods and points of interest in Alberta.

A. J. Fallow, secretary-manager of the Edmonton Flying Club, said aviation arrangements have been made for the visit.

It is expected a large number of volunteers with cars to take the visitors to the flying fields and near the city during their brief stop.

If aid it would be appreciated if anyone volunteering to help in this way would telephone the club at 84727.

Devaluation Said Only Solution to U.K. Ills

Devaluation of the pound sterling was the least of several evils facing the British government as a result of international trade and financial tangles.

That was the message brought by the Edmonton Young Liberals Club meeting here last night by Dr. H. B. Mayo, professor of political economy at the University of Alberta.

From the Union Bus Depot, the regular bus will leave at 7:15 a.m. and every quarter past the hour until 11:55 p.m. The regular bus will be extended until 11:30 p.m. Buses leave 100 street at 8:15, 7:15 and 8:15 a.m., and from the Depot at 6:45, 5:45 and 6:45 p.m.

There will be half-hour service throughout the day on Saturdays until 4:45 p.m. Regular bus will be on the same schedule as weekdays. There will be no Sunday service in the new schedule.

Canada-U.K. Seek Devaluation Plans

Scheme Sought To Preserve Canada Sales, U.K. Dollars

By Norman M. Macleod

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—(HUP)—British and Canadian authorities today were studying a new plan to protect Canadian industry from the "shock" of currency devaluation, but at the same time assist Britain in saving scarce U.S. dollars.

The plan, a working formula put before the Canadian-United Kingdom continuing committee on trade and economic affairs, would permit Britain in turn to devalue its currency to buy some of her food requirements.

British contractual commitments with Canada, however, would have to be observed for those food supplies the which Canada could find no other customer.

SAFEGUARD CANADA

The purpose of the understanding, it was learned, was to safeguard the interests of Canadian dairymen and pork-producers in the event of a devaluation of the British and New Zealand currencies, Canadian cheese, ham, and bacon faced stiff competition on the British market.

In return for being released from some of her contract obligations, Britain would keep Canadian producer interests in mind in any future arrangements under the formula, it was learned.

The Canadian-United Kingdom continuing committee was in session here all week, but toward its official statement of progress.

High level British officials who took part in the discussions, included High Commissioner Sir Alexander Clouston, second treasury secretary Sir Henry Smith, permanent secretary P. G. Lee of the Ministry of Food, and second secretary S. J. Holmes of the Board of Trade.

Canadian representatives included deputy minister of Trade and Commerce Max Marchand, deputy minister of agriculture T. G. Taggart, director of international economic relations J. J. Deneuch, and head of the economic division of the Department of External Affairs A. F. W. Plumptre.

Decisions reached by the committee required ratification by the respective governments. It was understood, however, that the Canadian proposal was put forward with the advance approval of the Canadian government.

The policy outlined would become applicable mainly to British purchases in 1950.

Presumably Canada would not pressure the United Kingdom to purchase items in this country, since a ready market for Canadian products exists in the United States. Home consumption also could be expanded, it is believed.

FRESH PORK SALES
For example, more fresh pork could be sold here, which would have to take from Canada and pay for in dollars.

But the British officials did not frankly that Canada felt consideration was due to those sections of the Canadian farm industry which secured production to the wartime needs of Britain, and still required a definite share of the British market to absorb its peacetime production.

Union Won't Probe 81-YEAR-OLD Workers' Illness

PORT KAITUMA, Ceylon, Sept. 20.—(HUP)—Mike Koplos, president of Local 607, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (IUMS), said yesterday that the union has dropped its plan for an independent investigation of a gas-induced illness among workers at the port Kaituma Nickel Company's refinery here.

The company asserts in the past have taken every known precaution and hope that no more will be affected, it said.

VAL TERRY, Sept. 20.—(HUP)—Because he believes "food is a mighty important item in the book country," George D. Blodgett, 81-year-old prospector from Burlington, Que., was taking a domestic release today here today.

Nazi Scientists in Russia Knew Atom Bomb Secret

By HELEN FISHER

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 20.—(HUP)—German scientists now working for Russia had enough "atomics" know-how to create atomic energy four years ago, Germany's leading atomic scientists said today.

The Germans also were aware of the theoretical possibility of making an atomic bomb but stopped their research in 1942 because war-time Germany could not provide the equipment needed, the scientists said.

Germany's top atomic scientist, Nobel prize winner Werner Heisenberg and Otto Hahn, and all other directors of Germany's atomic research, still are in Germany. But some "second-rate scientists" were captured by the Russians and sent to the Soviet Union.

200 IN RUSSIA

Among the more than 200 German scientists now in the Soviet Union at least two men worked with Heisenberg throughout the war and two top-notch technical experts who had access to Heisenberg's data.

The physicists were identified as Professor Dorel and Hahn, and the technical experts as Manfred von Ardenne, electronic microscopist and former head of the Telefunken Research staff in Germany, and Prof. Heric, chemist and former research chief for the Auster Company, which made gas masks, activated charcoal and similar specialties.

Heisenberg said German atomic research remained ahead of Anglo-American atomic research until mid-1945. Then he said, the Americans put ahead of one point—splitting the radioactive isotope uranium from ordinary uranium in useful quantities.

One year later the Germans caught up, he said.

MOVED EQUIPMENT

The Germans had to move their main atomic research laboratory here and research was interrupted for months while equipment and raw materials were gathered. Thus, not until February, 1945, when Germany's situation was already hopeless, was there enough material on hand to begin work on the full-scale pile.

It was set up at Hagerloch. But in April, 1945, American troops arrived and the Germans had not yet unleashed a chain reaction. The United States, on the other hand, had its first pile going in December, 1942.

Yet the Germans knew then how to produce atomic energy. And at least two of the men who worked on the project with Heisenberg took their know-how to Russia three years ago.

Montreal Police Halt Tram Fare Protesters

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Members of the Montreal police anti-subversive squad last night seized three huge posters and brought to a quick end a street parade which preceded a meeting called in protest over recent fare increases granted the Montreal Tramways Company.

Police soon broke up the parade and seized the posters.

The meeting was sponsored by the Workers' Education League of Montreal. It was called to protest the increase in tram tickets which will cost three for 25 cents as of Saturday instead of four for 25 cents.

SMALL GROUP
It started in suburban Verdun when a group of 25 persons, whom police described as members of the Labor Progressive Party, boarded a streetcar in a body and headed for the meeting hall.

The group carried large placards calling on Montreal residents to "join the 25 club"—stop the tram fare increase—"attend the protest meeting tonight."

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Judge J. F. T. O'Connor, 63, former United States commissioner of the currency, died yesterday.

It was certainly good to learn that Matt Berry was safe at Yellowknife the other day. The news of his safety came an hour or two after he was reported missing on a flight from Norman Wells to Fort Good Hope.

Did you ever stop to think of how hard it is to become really lost in any civilized country to day?

Providing an almanac checks all the rules laid down by the department of transport and hasn't been steam-blown far off his course, somebody is looking for him almost within minutes after he fails to arrive at his destination.

Radio magic performs this modern miracle aided by wonderful organization.

Just a few years ago things were different.

My folks homesteaded on the great Saskatchewan prairie land when I was a kid.

There were no highways and very few properly surveyed roads in those days. Nothing but dim wagon trails that became completely obliterated in any kind of blizzard.

Every winter we used to hear of neighbors being found frozen in their public driving home a few miles from town in either or sleigh.

I still remember the night my dad got lost driving home from a visit to a neighbor only three miles from our place.

The blizzard struck about 10 o'clock at night after a balmy day.

WAS ALMOST HOME

My father was driving alone in a cutter and was almost half way home when the storm howled down from the northwest without warning.

He didn't reach home until 3 a.m. and my mother and my youngsters were frantic.

We had a big mantle lamp that could be seen for miles or a clear night. We turned it up high and put it in the front window, hoping dad might see the glow if he were close to the house, but he never saw it.

We would anxiously strain our ears for the tink of sleigh bells but all sounds were drowned out by the howling fury of the storm.

Don, that brought dad safely home.

It was our faithful old horse, Don, that brought dad safely home.

For a while father tried to keep going in the direction he thought our farm lay but soon became hopelessly lost. He would stop every few days, take off his mitts and feel down through the snow for the ground to see whether he was on the trail, plowed ground or open prairie.

Finally he let his reins slacken and told Don to "take me home."

Don made it but we were a mighty scared bunch for a few hours.

DIED IN YARD

I remember a neighbor being found frozen to death between his own barn and house. Blizzard struck when he was doing his chores. He lived alone and was unable to get out, his horse being unable to reach either the barn or house.

One neighbor saved his life by finding a granary where he showed wheat frost and back all through the night to keep from freezing.

Don't system for heating a blizzard. When caught on the road the blizzard was so bad that his team, tipped the cutter upside down and crawled underneath. The drifting snow was so cold that the horses nearly died of the cold.

Those prairie blizzards in the early days were really frightful. It's a whole lot harder to get lost nowadays.

HAPPY PLAYTIME HOURS like these, comfortable home life, and loving care is provided at Alberta Protestant Home for Children, 10621-92 street, where 35 orphans and children of broken homes are accommodated. Always crowded to capacity, home is financed by contributions from Orange Association, city and

M. J. "JOE" DUPUIS. Into retirement.

45-Year Travel Career Ends Here Saturday

By Don Travis
Bulletin Staff Reporter

Several million train travellers may not know it, but ensuring the smoothness of their rides for the past 45 years was a man called Joe Dupuis.

He is one of the unassuming heroes that made sure passengers get connections, had reservations and played a sort of motherly role in the railway industry.

Mr. Dupuis of 10713-124 street, for the past three years has been CNR district passenger agent in Edmonton. Before that he was in Winnipeg and St. Paul, Minn., in the same capacity.

He started his career with the Great Northern Railway in 1914 and moved to Winnipeg with the old Canadian Northern in 1924.

Surviving various amalgamations of small trunk railways, Mr. Dupuis ended up as passenger agent in Winnipeg.

It was he who started the first excursion train for American tourists to Churchill, Man., Canada's far north port.

In 1948 he was transferred to Edmonton.

On Saturday, Mr. Dupuis will have a lot of time on his hands for the first time.

At his home on 124 street yesterday the short, heavy-set man was packing trunks and suitcases.

"I've got two sons and two daughters living in the States and plan to pay them a visit," he said.

Rifle Association Plans Shoot On Winterburn Rge.

Officers in charge request that each member bring his own lunch.

Members of the regiment will be under the command of Maj. A. MacDonald in the absence of Lt.-Col. W. C. Brown. The latter is in Ottawa attending Canadian Industry Association meetings.

Cadet Officer C. D. Dawe of No. 3 Dental Company is now with the regiment, while Sgt. H. R. Grant, P.M.C., has been posted to the A & T staff.

New members include: Charles B. Tucker, Robert Ayre, Edmonton; Doug Toenack, Denham, Alta.; and John Diemer, Grande Prairie.

Sales And Ad Men Will Hear S. Richardson

"The True North" will be Stuart Richardson's topic when he addresses the Sales and Advertising Bureau of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce at 1215 p.m. Friday at St. John A. MacDonald hotel.

Now public relations assistant with Northern Electric Co. Ltd., Mr. Richardson has completed 21 years of service with the company.

He is a member of Macdonald Sales and Advertising Club, a director of Canadian Professional Association, and Vice-president of Canadian Public Relations Society.

The South Sheldons, a group of uninhabited islands in the American Ocean, were discovered by Dirk Chocoma, a Dutch seaman, in 1599.

Beet Crop Seen Below Estimate

TAHNA, Alta., Sept. 28.—(CP)—A heavy sugar beet crop may fall short of the all-time high of 100 million pounds of sugar produced from this season's crop.

Farmers and sugar company officials report there is a general indication of immaturity in the crop. They blame this partially on the frost early in September which also caused some deterioration. At Haymond more root loss than normal has been experienced.

Record weight for a beet is 571 pounds and for a 1929-30 season.

Campaigning Almost Nil As Nomination Day Near

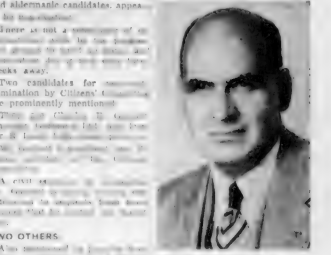

By Wm. "Spud" Murphy
Bulletin Staff Reporter

Quietest municipal election in recent years appears in the making for November 2 next.

Activity, except for the usual "house-to-house" canvassing and alternate candidates, appears to be nonexistent.

There is not a single candidate for alderman or councillor who has not been nominated.

It is a quiet campaign, but it is a campaign.

STARTING GUN in Edmonton's Community Chest campaign is the election of G. F. Hines, director of education, to the board of directors.

Drop Shown In Courses

Enrollment in the courses of the Edmonton Technical Institute has shown a drop of 10 per cent in the first term of the year.

The institute, which is a branch of the department of education, has a total enrollment of about 1,000 students.

G. F. Hines, director of education, said today that the drop in enrollment was due to a number of factors, including a change in the curriculum and a change in the location of the institute.

He was arrested in a rooming house where he and a girlfriend were found drinking beer.

He was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Shriners Plan Outing Here

A similar fire was reported today between Edmonton and Leduc, and now also under control, Mr. Hines said.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (UP)—Military and diplomatic officials moved today to speed U.S. arms aid to non-Communist nations under the military assistance program approved by congress. One expert said the first munitions-packed ships might sail for Europe within two months.

Brazilian singer star Carmen Miranda and her husband, David Sebastian, arrived this week on a special mission to help the United States in its fight against the Axis.

Congress was expected, however, to give quick final approval to this year's $1,850,000,000 military aid bill. The bill would cover arms and munitions, as well as the cost of shipping them to Europe. House and Senate, in that order, faced votes today on a compromise foreign aid appropriation bill.

Most of this—$1,850,000,000—would go into the Marshall Plan. The rest would cover arms and munitions, as well as the cost of shipping them to Europe. House and Senate, in that order, faced votes today on a compromise foreign aid appropriation bill.

President Truman was expected to sign the long-pending arms aid bill immediately after returning from his current trip to St. Louis and Kansas City. Congress passed it in a rush yesterday in pretty much the form Mr. Truman requested months ago.

Top soldiers and diplomats already were organizing to administer the $1,310,000,000 program, designed to bolster anti-Communist nations in western Europe and elsewhere against the threat of Russian aggression.

The experts said they would immediately set up committees of military and civilian officials to select the United States surplus. France was expected to get the surplus priority on the shipments.

One important defense official said it would also take about two months to put the first batch of surplus weapons in shape for shipping. This, he said, would be done by the end of the year.

The arms plans call for shipment of surplus guns, tanks and planes, valued originally at $450,000,000. These arms will be charged to the program at a mark-down price of $250,000,000.

Horseman Up For Assault

CALGARY, Sept. 19. (CP)—A police constable today charged a horseback rider after an argument over whether the motorist's car lights were dimmed.

George Hoggan, the motorist, said that Schumaker, the constable, ran charged with assault, was one of a number of a number of horseback riders who, over the last few days, had been attacking the "head-light" argument.

Hoggan said the rider, who was in front of his car, forcing him to stop. One of the riders, he alleged, pulled him out of the car and struck him several times.

The constable was charged to have said: "I'll teach you... to run into my horse."

Hoggan denied he had struck any of the horses. The case was set over to Friday.

Manslaughter Is Verdict

HAMILTON, Sept. 19. (CP)—Edward (Dempsey) Richards was convicted last night on charges of manslaughter and wounding, arising from a fracas Aug. 6 which culminated in the fatal shooting of Richard Silke. The jury recommended leniency. Richards will be sentenced Friday.

Earlier the jury, without retiring, acquitted David (Slim) Hays, a 40-year-old proprietor of the suburban roadhouse where the shooting allegedly occurred during an all-night drinking party. He had been charged with manslaughter.

Richards and Ambrose were first charged jointly with murder but after a preliminary hearing Aug. 26, the charges were reduced to manslaughter and wounding.
